

INTERESTED IN BEING A JEFF JUDGE?

If you are interested in becoming a member of The Jeff Committee, send an email to membership@jeffawards.org to receive an application.

The Membership Committee reviews applications and schedules interviews with prospective candidates. Approval of the candidate is by majority vote of the entire committee, and if there is no vacancy, candidates are placed on reserve until a vacancy occurs.

A candidate must be knowledgeable about theater, either through professional or academic training, or because of exceptional commitment and exposure to all forms of theater. He/she must be able to critically analyze theater, be able to meet the time commitments required of members, and not be a spouse or domestic partner of a current member of the Jeff Committee.

Membership requirements include maintaining a 70% attendance rate for recommended Equity and non-Equity productions (approximately 150 productions annually); accept a fair share of opening night judging assignments; serve on one sub-committee; submit ballots for all productions attended; attend general meetings; pay annual dues; submit an annual conflict of interest form. Jeff members are guests of theaters and are expected to behave accordingly.
